Journal of Scottish Historical Studies
Articles by time period:

14th century:

15th century:

16th century:
Vol 7: Peter Symms, ‘Some Aspects Of The Sheep Farming Activities Of James V’;
Vol 9: Ian D. Whyte, ‘Urbanization In Early-Modern Scotland: A Preliminary Analysis’;
Vol 18:1: Iain Whyte, ‘Poverty or Prosperity? Rural Society in Lowland Scotland in the Late Sixteenth and Early Seventeenth Centuries’;
Vol 28:1: Cathryn Spence, ‘Women And Business In Sixteenth-Century Edinburgh: Evidence From Their Testaments’;
Vol 32:2: John MacCallum, ‘Charity doesn't Begin at Home: Ecclesiastical Poor Relief beyond the Parish, 1560-1650’

17th century:
Vol 9: Ian D. Whyte, ‘Urbanization In Early-Modern Scotland: A Preliminary Analysis’;
Vol 12: Michael Lynch, ‘Urbanisation And Urban Networks In Seventeenth Century Scotland: Some Further Thoughts’;
Vol 16: Craig Young, ‘Rural Independent Artisan Production in the East-Central Lowlands of Scotland, c.1600-c.1850’;
Vol 17:1: David Stevenson, ‘A Note on a Scheme to Straighten the River Forth in 1636’;
Vol 18:1: Iain Whyte, ‘Poverty or Prosperity? Rural Society in Lowland Scotland in the Late Sixteenth and Early Seventeenth Centuries’;
Vol 18:2: John G. Harrison, ‘Women and the Branks in Stirling, c.1600 to c.1730’;
Vol 18:2: Alastair Mann, ‘Book Commerce, Litigation and the Art of Monopoly: The Case of Agnes Campbell, Royal Printer, 1676-1712’;
Vol 21:1: W. Douglas Jones, ‘The Bold Adventurers’: A Quantitative Analysis of the Darien Subscription List (1696);
Vol 27:1: Sarah Covington, ‘Royalists, Covenanters And The Shooting Of Servants In The Scottish Civil War’;
Vol 31:2: Adam Fox, ‘The Emergence of the Scottish Broadside Ballad in the Late Seventeenth and Early Eighteenth Centuries’;
Vol 32:2: John MacCallum, ‘Charity doesn't Begin at Home: Ecclesiastical Poor Relief beyond the Parish, 1560-1650’

18th century:
Vol 1: Rosalind Mitchison, ‘The Highland Clearances’;
Vol 1: Tom Donnelly, ‘The Economic Activities Of The Members Of The Aberdeen Merchant Guild, 1750-1799’;
Vol 2: Richard F. Dell, ‘The Operational Record Of The Clyde Tobacco Fleet, 1747-1775’;
Vol 2: Lorna Weatherill, ‘Marketing English Pottery In Scotland, 1750-1820 A Study In The Inland Trade’;
Vol 3: A. Gunning, ‘Government Expenditure And Military And Naval Activity In Scotland 1793-1815’;
Vol 4: Ian Donnachie, ‘Scottish Criminals And Transportation To Australia, 1786-1852’;
Vol 5: T. M. Devine, ‘The Union Of 1707 And Scottish Development’;
Vol 5: Francis J. Rice, ‘The Origins Of An Organisation Of Insanity In Scotland’;
Vol 6: C. A. Watley, ‘Sales Of Scottish Marine Salt, 1714-1832’;
Vol 7: L. M. Cullen, ‘Smuggling In The North Channel In The Eighteenth Century’;
Vol 9: J. K. J. Thomson, ‘Scotland And Catalonia And The American Market In The Eighteenth Century’;
Vol 10: Lee Soltow, ‘Inequality Of Wealth In Land In Scotland In The Eighteenth Century’;
Vol 14: Christopher A. Whatley, ‘Women And The Economic Transformation Of Scotland c.1740-1830’;
Vol 15: Hugh Cheape, ‘A Song On The Lowland Shepherds: Popular Reaction To The Highland Clearances’;
Vol 16: Craig Young, ‘Rural Independent Artisan Production in the East-Central Lowlands of Scotland, c.1600-c.1850’;
Vol 17: 2: Alan R. MacDonald, ‘“Both Profitable and Pleasant”: Eighteenth-Century Forestry on the Burgh Muir of Perth’;
Vol 18:2: John G. Harrison, ‘Women and the Branks in Stirling, c.1600 to c.1730’;
Vol 18:2: Alastair Mann, ‘Book Commerce, Litigation and the Art of Monopoly: The Case of Agnes Campbell, Royal Printer, 1676-1712’;
Vol 19:2: Carol Hill, ‘Galloway Shipping and Regional Development, 1750-1850’;
Vol 27:1: Christopher A. Watley and Derek J. Patrick, ‘Contesting Interpretations Of The Union Of 1707: The Abuse And Use Of George Lockhart Of Carnwath’s Memoirs’;
Vol 28:2: Katie Barclay, ‘Negotiating Patriarchy: The Marriage Of Anna Potts And Sir Archibald Grant Of Monymusk, 1731–1744’;
Vol 29:2: Alison Duncan, ‘The Sword and the Pen: The Role of Correspondence in the Advancement Tactics of Eighteenth-Century Military Officers’;
Vol 31:2: Adam Fox, ‘The Emergence of the Scottish Broadside Ballad in the Late Seventeenth and Early Eighteenth Centuries’;
Vol 32:2: Anthony Cooke, ‘An Elite Revisited: Glasgow West India Merchants, 1783-1877’;

19th century:
Vol 2: Lorna Weatherill, ‘Marketing English Pottery In Scotland, 1750-1820 A Study In The Inland Trade’;
Vol 2: Willie Orr, ‘The Economic Impact Of Deer Forests In The Scottish Highlands 1850-1914’;
Vol 3: C. H. Lee, ‘Modern Economic Growth And Structural Change In Scotland The Service Sector Reconsidered’;
Vol 3: A. Gunning, ‘Government Expenditure And Military And Naval Activity In Scotland 1793-1815’;
Vol 4: Ian Donnachie, ‘Scottish Criminals And Transportation To Australia, 1786-1852’;
Vol 4: Paul Robertson, ‘Scottish Universities And Industry, 1860-1914’;
Vol 5: Francis J. Rice, ‘The Origins Of An Organisation Of Insanity In Scotland’;
Vol 5: Irene Brunskill, ‘Ben Fine and Martha Prevezer, The Ownership Of Coal Royalties In Scotland’;
Vol 6: C. A. Watley, ‘Sales Of Scottish Marine Salt, 1714-1832’;
Vol 6: James H. Treble, ‘The Characteristics Of The Female Unskilled Labour Market And The Formation Of The Female Casual Labour Market In Glasgow, 1891-1914’;
Vol 7: R. D. Anderson, ‘Scottish University Professors, 1800-1939: Profile Of An Elite’;
Vol 7: James R. Coull, ‘The Engagement System During The Shetland Herring Boom, 1880-1914’;
Vol 8: Andrew G. Ralston, ‘The Development Of Reformatory And Industrial Schools In Scotland, 1832-1872’;
Vol 8: J. Forbes Munro, ‘Scottish Overseas Enterprise And The Lure Of London: The Mackinnon Shipping Group, 1847-1893’;
Vol 9: D. Smith, ‘Colonel A.B. Mchardy: The Transformation Of Penalty In Scotland’ (1885-1909);
Vol 9: Jeanette Brock, ‘Spurious Migration In The Scottish Census’;
Vol 11: Cynthia M. Atherton, ‘The Development Of The Middle Class Suburb: The West End Of Glasgow’;
Vol 12: Alastair Durie, ‘Tourism In Victorian Scotland: The Case Of Abbotsford’;
Vol 12: Eric Richards, ‘The Decline Of St Kilda: Demography, Economy And Emigration’;
Vol 13: J. McG. Davies, ‘Social And Labour Relations At Pullars Of Perth 1882-1924’;
Vol 14: Christopher A. Whatley, ‘Women And The Economic Transformation Of Scotland c.1740-1830’;
Vol 14: R.A. Cage, ‘Infant Mortality Rates And Housing: Twentieth Century Glasgow’;
Vol 15: Ian Donnachie, ‘“The Darker Side”: A Speculative Survey Of Scottish Crime During The First Half Of The Nineteenth Century’;
Vol 15: James R. Coull, ‘The Role Of The Fishery Board In The Development Of Scottish Fishing Harbours c.1809-1939’;
Vol 15: Henry Maitles, ‘Attitudes To Jewish Immigration In The West Of Scotland To 1905’;
Vol 15: Hugh Cheape, ‘A Song On The Lowland Shepherds: Popular Reaction To The Highland Clearances’;
Vol 16: Craig Young, ‘Rural Independent Artisan Production in the East-Central Lowlands of Scotland, c.1600-c.1850’;
Vol 16: Eric Richards, ‘The Military Register and the Pursuit of Patrick Sellar’;
Vol 16: W. Hamish Fraser, ‘Owenite Socialism in Scotland’;
Vol 16: Margaret Storrie, ‘“They Go Much from Home”: Nineteenth-Century Islanders of Gigha, Scotland’;
Vol 17:1: Neil Tranter, ‘Schooling and Literacy in Early Nineteenth Century Scotland: Some Additional Evidence and its Implications’;
Vol 17:1: Ewen A. Cameron, ‘“They Will Listen to no Remonstrance”: Land Raids and Land Raiders in The Scottish Highlands, 1886 To 1914’;
Vol 17:2: Janice Helland, ‘Artistic Advocate: Mary Rose Hill Burton and the Falls of Foyers’;
Vol 19:2: Carol Hill, ‘Galloway Shipping and Regional Development, 1750-1850’;
Vol 19:2: James R. Coull, ‘Penetrating and Monitoring the Market: The Development of the Continental Market for Scottish Herring in the Nineteenth and Early Twentieth Centuries’;
Vol 21:2: Kathryn L. Moore, ‘The Northeast of Scotland’s Coastal Trading Links Towards the End of the Nineteenth Century’;
Vol 22:2: Kevin J. James, ‘A View from Across the Irish Sea: Margaret Irwin and the Sweating Question in Ulster’;
Vol 23:1: Andrew Bain, ‘The Beginnings of Democratic Control of Local Education in Scotland’;
Vol 24:1: Elaine MacFarland, ‘Researching Death, Mourning And Commemoration In Modern Scotland’;
Vol 27:2: Nathalie Rosset, ‘Popular Philosophy In Early Nineteenth-Century Scotland’;
Vol 27:2: Atsuko Betchaku, ‘Thomas Chalmers, David Stow and the St John's Experiment: A Study in Educational Influence in Scotland and Beyond, 1819–c.1850’;
Vol 29:1: Marie Robinson, ‘Plague and Humiliation: The Ecclesiastical Response to Cattle Plague in Mid-Victorian Britain’;
Vol 30:1: Geoffrey Baggott, ‘Melness Farm, Sutherland: The Land Question and the Congested Districts Board, c. 1866–1911’;
Vol 30:2: Peter Fletcher, ‘Railway Capital in Northern Scotland, 1844-1874’;
Vol 30:2: Yukihisa Kumagai, ‘Kirkman Finlay and John Crawfurd: Two Scots in the Campaign of the Glasgow East India Association for the Opening of the China Trade, 1829-1833’;
Vol 31:1: Peter Hillis, ‘The Social Composition of the Cathedral Church of St Mungo in Late Nineteenth-Century Glasgow’;
Vol 31:1 Duncan Sim, ‘The Scottish Community and Scottish Organisations on Merseyside: Development and Decline of a Diaspora’;
Vol 32:1 Christopher A. Watley, ‘Custom, Commerce and Lord Meadowbank: the Management of the Meal Market in Urban Scotland, c.1740-c.1820’;
Vol 32:2 Anthony Cooke, ‘An Elite Revisited: Glasgow West India Merchants, 1783-1877’;

20th century:
Vol 1: Sylvia Price, ‘Ivetters’ Earnings In Clyde Shipbuilding, 1889-1913’;
Vol 2: Willie Orr, ‘The Economic Impact Of Deer Forests In The Scottish Highlands 1850-1914’;
Vol 3: C. H. Lee, ‘Modern Economic Growth And Structural Change In Scotland The Service Sector Reconsidered’;
Vol 4: Paul Robertson, ‘Scottish Universities And Industry, 1860-1914’;
Vol 5: Irene Brunskill, ‘Ben Fine and Martha Prevezer, The Ownership Of Coal Royalties In Scotland’;
Vol 6: James H. Treble, ‘The Characteristics Of The Female Unskilled Labour Market And The Formation Of The Female Casual Labour Market In Glasgow, 1891-1914’;
Vol 6: G. R. Rubin, ‘The Composition Of The Munitions Tribunal In Glasgow During The First World War’;
Vol 7: R. D. Anderson, ‘Scottish University Professors, 1800-1939: Profile Of An Elite’;
Vol 7: James R. Coull, ‘The Engagement System During The Shetland Herring Boom, 1880-1914’;
Vol 9: D. Smith, ‘Colonel A.B. Mchardy: The Transformation Of Penalty In Scotland’ (1885-1909);
Vol 9: Jeanette Brock, ‘Spurious Migration In The Scottish Census’;
Vol 10: R. H. Campbell, ‘Scottish Economic And Social History: Past Developments And Future Prospects’;
Vol 10: Arthur Midwinter, ‘A Return To Ratepayer Democracy?: The Reform Of Local Government Finance In Historical Perspective’;
Vol 11: Callum G. Brown, ‘Secularisation: A Theory In Danger?’;
Vol 13: J.McG. Davies, ‘Social And Labour Relations At Pullars Of Perth 1882-1924’;
Vol 14: Roy Church, ‘The Checkland Memorial Lecture “How Did Business Think?”’;
Vol 14: R.A. Cage, ‘Infant Mortality Rates And Housing: Twentieth Century Glasgow’;
Vol 15: James R. Coull, ‘The Role Of The Fishery Board In The Development Of Scottish Fishing Harbours c.1809-1939’;
Vol 16: Peter Mathias, ‘Historical Continuity and Present Discontinuity in the Brewing Industry’;
Vol 16: Craig Young, ‘Rural Independent Artisan Production in the East-Central Lowlands of Scotland, c.1600-c.1850’;
Vol 17:1: Ewen A. Cameron, ‘“They Will Listen to no Remonstrance”: Land Raids and Land Raiders in The Scottish Highlands, 1886 To 1914’;
Vol 19:1: Tony Milligan, ‘The British Union of Fascists' Policy in Relation to Scotland’;
Vol 19:2: James R. Coull, ‘Penetrating and Monitoring the Market: The Development of the Continental Market for Scottish Herring in the Nineteenth and Early Twentieth Centuries’;
Vol 20:1: Heather Holmes, ‘Unwearied Investigations and Interminable Correspondence’: The Churches and Clerical Work in Improving Housing Conditions for Irish Migratory Potato Workers in Scotland’;
Vol 21:1: John Stewart, ‘The most precious possession of a nation is its children’: The Clyde Committee on Homeless Children in Scotland;
Vol 22:2: Arthur McIvor and Ronnie Johnston, ‘Voices from the Pits: Health and Safety in Scottish Coal Mining Since 1945’;
Vol 22:2: Kevin J. James, ‘A View from Across the Irish Sea: Margaret Irwin and the Sweating Question in Ulster’;
Vol 23:1: Andrew Bain, ‘The Beginnings of Democratic Control of Local Education in Scotland’;
Vol 24:1: Roger Davidson and Gayle Davis, ‘ “A Festering Sore On The Body Of Society”: The Wolfenden Committee And Female Prostitution In Mid-Twentieth-Century Scotland’;
Vol 24:2: Catriona M. M. MacDonald, ‘“Wersh The Wine O’ Victorie”: Writing Scotland’s Second World War’;
Vol 26:1-2: John Stewart and John Welshman, ‘The Evacuation Of Children In Wartime Scotland: Culture, Behaviour And Poverty’;
Vol 27:1: Robin Mackie, ‘Counting Chemists: The Distribution Of Chemical Expertise In Scotland In The First Half Of The Twentieth Century’;
Vol 29:2: Ben Braber, ‘Within Our Gates: A New Perspective on Germans in Glasgow during the First World War’;
Vol 30:1: Geoffrey Baggott, ‘Melness Farm, Sutherland: The Land Question and the Congested Districts Board, c. 1866–1911’;
Vol 31:1: Johann Custodis, ‘Exploiting the Enemy in the Orkneys: The Employment of Italian Prisoners of War on the Scapa Flow Barriers during the Second World War’;
Vol 31:1: Duncan Sim, ‘The Scottish Community and Scottish Organisations on Merseyside: Development and Decline of a Diaspora’;

21st century:
Vol 23:2: Annette Carruthers, ‘House Museums and Domestic Life Displays in Scotland’;
Articles by theme:

Economy and trade:
Vol 1: Rosalind Mitchison, ‘The Highland Clearances’;
Vol 1: Tom Donnelly, ‘The Economic Activities Of The Members Of The Aberdeen Merchant Guild, 1750-1799’;
Vol 1: Sylvia Price, ‘Ivetters’ Earnings In Clyde Shipbuilding, 1889-1913’;
Vol 2: Richard F. Dell, ‘The Operational Record Of The Clyde Tobacco Fleet, 1747-1775’;
Vol 2: Lorna Weatherill, ‘Marketing English Pottery In Scotland, 1750-1820 A Study In The Inland Trade’;
Vol 2: Willie Orr, ‘The Economic Impact Of Deer Forests In The Scottish Highlands 1850-1914’;
Vol 3: C. H. Lee, ‘Modern Economic Growth And Structural Change In Scotland The Service Sector Reconsidered’;
Vol 4: Paul Robertson, ‘Scottish Universities And Industry, 1860-1914’;
Vol 5: T. M. Devine, ‘The Union Of 1707 And Scottish Development’;
Vol 5: Irene Brunskill, ‘Ben Fine and Martha Prevezer, The Ownership Of Coal Royalties In Scotland’;
Vol 6: C. A. Watley, ‘Sales Of Scottish Marine Salt, 1714-1832’;
Vol 6: James H. Treble, ‘The Characteristics Of The Female Unskilled Labour Market And The Formation Of The Female Casual Labour Market In Glasgow, 1891-1914’;
Vol 7: L. M. Cullen, ‘Smuggling In The North Channel In The Eighteenth Century’;
Vol 7: James R. Coull, ‘The Engagement System During The Shetland Herring Boom, 1880-1914’;
Vol 7: Peter Symms, ‘Some Aspects Of The Sheep Farming Activities Of James V’;
Vol 9: J. K. J. Thomson, ‘Scotland And Catalonia And The American Market In The Eighteenth Century’;
Vol 9: Ian D. Whyte, ‘Urbanization In Early-Modern Scotland: A Preliminary Analysis’;
Vol 10: R. H. Campbell, ‘Scottish Economic And Social History: Past Developments And Future Prospects’;
Vol 10: Lee Soltow, ‘Inequality Of Wealth In Land In Scotland In The Eighteenth Century’;
Vol 11: Cynthia M. Atherton, ‘The Development Of The Middle Class Suburb: The West End Of Glasgow’;
Vol 12: Michael Lynch, ‘Urbanisation And Urban Networks In Seventeenth Century Scotland: Some Further Thoughts’;
Vol 12: Eric Richards, ‘The Decline Of St Kilda: Demography, Economy And Emigration’;
Vol 13: J.McG. Davies, ‘Social And Labour Relations At Pullars Of Perth 1882-1924’;
Vol 14: Roy Church, ‘The Checkland Memorial Lecture “How Did Business Think?”’;
Vol 14: Christopher A. Whatley, ‘Women And The Economic Transformation Of Scotland c.1740-1830’;
Vol 15: James R. Coull, ‘The Role Of The Fishery Board In The Development Of Scottish Fishing Harbours c.1809-1939’;
Vol 16: Peter Mathias, ‘Historical Continuity and Present Discontinuity in the Brewing Industry’;
Vol 16: W. Hamish Fraser, ‘Owenite Socialism in Scotland’;
Vol 17:1: Debbie Kemmer, 'Investigating Infant Mortality in Early Twentieth Century Scotland Using Civil Registers: Aberdeen and Dundee Compared';
Vol 17:1: David Stevenson, 'A Note on a Scheme to Straighten the River Forth in 1636';
Vol 17:2: Alan R. MacDonald, “‘Both Profitable and Pleasant’: Eighteenth-Century Forestry on the Burgh Muir of Perth’;
Vol 17:2: Janice Helland, 'Artistic Advocate: Mary Rose Hill Burton and the Falls of Foyers';
Vol 18:1: Olaf Uwe Janzen, 'A Scottish Sack Ship in the Newfoundland Trade 1726-27';
Vol 18:1: Iain Whyte, 'Poverty or Prosperity? Rural Society in Lowland Scotland in the Late Sixteenth and Early Seventeenth Centuries';
Vol 18:2: Alastair Mann, 'Book Commerce, Litigation and the Art of Monopoly: The Case of Agnes Campbell, Royal Printer, 1676-1712';
Vol 19:2: Carol Hill, 'Galloway Shipping and Regional Development, 1750-1850';
Vol 19:2: James R. Coull, 'Penetrating and Monitoring the Market: The Development of the Continental Market for Scottish Herring in the Nineteenth and Early Twentieth Centuries';
Vol 19:2: J. I. Little, 'Agricultural Improvement and Highland Clearance: The Isle of Arran, 1766-1829';
Vol 20:1: Heather Holmes, 'Unwearied Investigations and Interminable Correspondence': The Churches and Clerical Work in Improving Housing Conditions for Irish Migratory Potato Workers in Scotland';
Vol 20:2: Lewis Johnman and Hugh Murphy, 'Scotland, A Dead Loss. The Industrial and Commercial Finance Corporation and the Scottish Banks, 1945-1965';
Vol 20:2: Louise Miskell and William Kenefick, 'A Flourishing Seaport': Dundee Harbour and the Making of the Industrial Town, c.1815-1850';
Vol 21:2: Kathryn L. Moore, 'The Northeast of Scotland’s Coastal Trading Links Towards the End of the Nineteenth Century';
Vol 21:2: Lorraine Peters, 'Paisley and the Cotton Famine of 1862–1863';
Vol 21:2: Kay Blackwell, 'Women on Red Clydeside: The Invisible Workforce Debate';
Vol 22:2: Arthur McIvor and Ronnie Johnston, 'Voices from the Pits: Health and Safety in Scottish Coal Mining Since 1945';
Vol 22:2: Kevin J. James, 'A View from Across the Irish Sea: Margaret Irwin and the Sweating Question in Ulster';
Vol 23:1: R. Guerriero-Wilson, 'Women and the Scottish Clerks’ Association: From Contempt to Collegiality';
Vol 28:1: Cathryn Spence, ‘Women And Business In Sixteenth-Century Edinburgh: Evidence From Their Testaments’;
Vol 29:1: Marie Robinson, ‘Plague and Humiliation: The Ecclesiastical Response to Cattle Plague in Mid-Victorian Britain’;
Vol 30:2: Peter Fletcher, ‘Railway Capital in Northern Scotland, 1844-1874’;
Vol 30:2: Yukihisa Kumagai, ‘Kirkman Finlay and John Crawfurd: Two Scots in the Campaign of the Glasgow East India Association for the Opening of the China Trade, 1829-1833’;
Vol 32:2: Anthony Cooke, ‘An Elite Revisited: Glasgow West India Merchants, 1783-1877’
Society and culture:
Vol 1: Rosalind Mitchison, ‘The Highland Clearances’;
Vol 1: Tom Donnelly, ‘The Economic Activities Of The Members Of The Aberdeen Merchant Guild, 1750-1799’;
Vol 2: Lorna Weatherill, ‘Marketing English Pottery In Scotland, 1750-1820 A Study In The Inland Trade’;
Vol 7: R. D. Anderson, ‘Scottish University Professors, 1800-1939: Profile Of An Elite’;
Vol 9: Ian D. Whyte, ‘Urbanization In Early-Modern Scotland: A Preliminary Analysis’;
Vol 11: Cynthia M. Atherton, ‘The Development Of The Middle Class Suburb: The West End Of Glasgow’;
Vol 12: Alastair Durie, ‘Tourism In Victorian Scotland: The Case Of Abbotsford’;
Vol 13: J.McG. Davies, ‘Social And Labour Relations At Pullars Of Perth 1882-1924’;
Vol 15: Hugh Cheape, ‘A Song On The Lowland Shepherds: Popular Reaction To The Highland Clearances’;
Vol 16: W. Hamish Fraser, ‘Owenite Socialism in Scotland’;
Vol 17:1: Ewen A. Cameron, ‘“They Will Listen to no Remonstrance”: Land Raids and Land Raiders in The Scottish Highlands, 1886 To 1914’;
Vol 17:2: Janice Helland, ‘Artistic Advocate: Mary Rose Hill Burton and the Falls of Foyers’;
Vol 18:1: Iain Whyte, ‘Poverty or Prosperity? Rural Society in Lowland Scotland in the Late Sixteenth and Early Seventeenth Centuries’;
Vol 20:1: Heather Holmes, ‘Unwearied Investigations and Interminable Correspondence’: The Churches and Clerical Work in Improving Housing Conditions for Irish Migratory Potato Workers in Scotland’;
Vol 21:1: John Stewart, ‘The most precious possession of a nation is its children’: The Clyde Committee on Homeless Children in Scotland’;
Vol 23:2: Annette Carruthers, ‘House Museums and Domestic Life Displays in Scotland’;
Vol 24:1: Elaine MacFarland, ‘Researching Death, Mourning And Commemoration In Modern Scotland’;
Vol 26:1-2: John Stewart and John Welshman, ‘The Evacuation Of Children In Wartime Scotland: Culture, Behaviour And Poverty’;
Vol 27:1: Sarah Covington, ‘Royalists, Covenanters And The Shooting Of Servants In The Scottish Civil War’;
Vol 27:1: Christopher A. Watley and Derek J. Patrick, ‘Contesting Interpretations Of The Union Of 1707: The Abuse And Use Of George Lockhart Of Carnwath’s Memoirs’;
Vol 27:2: Nathalie Rosset, ‘Popular Philosophy In Early Nineteenth-Century Scotland’;
Vol 28:2: Katie Barclay, ‘Negotiating Patriarchy: The Marriage Of Anna Potts And Sir Archibald Grant Of Monymusk, 1731–1744’;
Vol 29:1: Marie Robinson, ‘Plague and Humiliation: The Ecclesiastical Response to Cattle Plague in Mid-Victorian Britain’;
Vol 29:2: Ben Braber, ‘Within Our Gates: A New Perspective on Germans in Glasgow during the First World War’;
Vol 29:2: Alison Duncan, ‘The Sword and the Pen: The Role of Correspondence in the Advancement Tactics of Eighteenth-Century Military Officers’;
Vol 31:1: Peter Hillis, ‘The Social Composition of the Cathedral Church of St Mungo in Late Nineteenth-Century Glasgow’;
Vol 31:1: Duncan Sim, ‘The Scottish Community and Scottish Organisations on Merseyside: Development and Decline of a Diaspora’;
Vol 31:2: Adam Fox, ‘The Emergence of the Scottish Broadside Ballad in the Late Seventeenth and Early Eighteenth Centuries’;
Vol 32:2: John MacCallum, ‘Charity doesn't Begin at Home: Ecclesiastical Poor Relief beyond the Parish, 1560-1650’;
Vol 32:2: Anthony Cooke, ‘An Elite Revisited: Glasgow West India Merchants, 1783-1877’;

Politics:
Vol 5: T. M. Devine, ‘The Union Of 1707 And Scottish Development’;
Vol 10: Arthur Midwinter, ‘A Return To Ratepayer Democracy?: The Reform Of Local Government Finance In Historical Perspective’;
Vol 15: Henry Maitles, ‘Attitudes To Jewish Immigration In The West Of Scotland To 1905’;
Vol 17:1: David Stevenson, ‘A Note on a Scheme to Straighten the River Forth in 1636’;
Vol 19:1: Tony Milligan, ‘The British Union of Fascists’ Policy in Relation to Scotland’;
Vol 23:1: Andrew Bain, ‘The Beginnings of Democratic Control of Local Education in Scotland’;
Vol 27:1: Christopher A. Watley and Derek J. Patrick, ‘Contesting Interpretations Of The Union Of 1707: The Abuse And Use Of George Lockhart Of Carnwath’s Memoirs’;

Science and technology:
Vol 4: Paul Robertson, ‘Scottish Universities And Industry, 1860-1914’;
Vol 9: D. Smith, ‘Colonel A.B. Mchardy: The Transformation Of Penalty In Scotland’ (1885-1909);
Vol 14: Christopher A. Whatley, ‘Women And The Economic Transformation Of Scotland c.1740-1830’;
Vol 17: 2: Alan R. MacDonald, “‘Both Profitable and Pleasant’: Eighteenth-Century Forestry on the Burgh Muir of Perth’;
Vol 17:2: Janice Helland, ‘Artistic Advocate: Mary Rose Hill Burton and the Falls of Foyers’;
Vol 27:1: Robin Mackie, ‘Counting Chemists: The Distribution Of Chemical Expertise In Scotland In The First Half Of The Twentieth Century’;
Vol 27: Patricia Lucie, ‘The Sinner And The Phrenologist: Davey Haggart Meets George Combe’

Gender and sexuality:
Vol 6: James H. Treble, ‘The Characteristics Of The Female Unskilled Labour Market And The Formation Of The Female Casual Labour Market In Glasgow, 1891-1914’;
Vol 14: Christopher A. Whatley, ‘Women And The Economic Transformation Of Scotland c.1740-1830’;
Vol 18:2: John G. Harrison, ‘Women and the Branks in Stirling, c.1600 to c.1730’;
Vol 18:2: Alastair Mann, ‘Book Commerce, Litigation and the Art of Monopoly: The Case of Agnes Campbell, Royal Printer, 1676-1712’;
Vol 22:2: Kevin J. James, ‘A View from Across the Irish Sea: Margaret Irwin and the Sweating Question in Ulster’;
Vol 24:1: Roger Davidson and Gayle Davis, ‘“A Festering Sore On The Body Of Society”: The Wolfenden Committee And Female Prostitution In Mid-Twentieth-Century Scotland’;
Vol 28:1: Cathryn Spence, ‘Women And Business In Sixteenth-Century Edinburgh: Evidence From Their Testaments’;
Vol 28:2: Katie Barclay, ‘Negotiating Patriarchy: The Marriage Of Anna Potts And Sir Archibald Grant Of Monymusk, 1731–1744’;

Family:
Vol 1: Tom Donnelly, ‘The Economic Activities Of The Members Of The Aberdeen Merchant Guild, 1750-1799’;
Vol 13: J.McG. Davies, ‘Social And Labour Relations At Pullars Of Perth 1882-1924’;
Vol 14: R.A. Cage, ‘Infant Mortality Rates And Housing: Twentieth Century Glasgow’;
Vol 16: Peter Mathias, ‘Historical Continuity and Present Discontinuity in the Brewing Industry’;
Vol 16: Margaret Storrie, “They Go Much from Home”: Nineteenth-Century Islanders of Gigha, Scotland’;
Vol 28:2: Katie Barclay, ‘Negotiating Patriarchy: The Marriage Of Anna Potts And Sir Archibald Grant Of Monymusk, 1731-1744’;
Vol 29:2: Alison Duncan, ‘The Sword and the Pen: The Role of Correspondence in the Advancement Tactics of Eighteenth-Century Military Officers’;

Crime and punishment:
Vol 4: Ian Donnachie, ‘Scottish Criminals And Transportation To Australia, 1786-1852’;
Vol 8: Andrew G. Ralston, ‘The Development Of Reformatory And Industrial Schools In Scotland, 1832-1872’;
Vol 9: D. Smith, ‘Colonel A.B. Mchardy: The Transformation Of Penalty In Scotland’ (1885-1909);
Vol 15: Ian Donnachie, ‘“The Darker Side”: A Speculative Survey Of Scottish Crime During The First Half Of The Nineteenth Century’;
Vol 18:2: John G. Harrison, ‘Women and the Branks in Stirling, c.1600 to c.1730’;
Vol 24:1: Roger Davidson and Gayle Davis, ‘“A Festering Sore On The Body Of Society”: The Wolfenden Committee And Female Prostitution In Mid-Twentieth-Century Scotland’;

Health:
Vol 14: R.A. Cage, ‘Infant Mortality Rates And Housing: Twentieth Century Glasgow’;
Vol 22:2: Arthur McIvor and Ronnie Johnston, ‘Voices from the Pits: Health and Safety in Scottish Coal Mining Since 1945’;
Vol 24:1: Roger Davidson and Gayle Davis, ‘“A Festering Sore On The Body Of Society”: The Wolfenden Committee And Female Prostitution In Mid-Twentieth-Century Scotland’;
Vol 29:1: Marie Robinson, ‘Plague and Humiliation: The Ecclesiastical Response to Cattle Plague in Mid-Victorian Britain’

Agriculture:
Vol 1: Rosalind Mitchison, ‘The Highland Clearances’;
Vol 7: Peter Symms, ‘Some Aspects Of The Sheep Farming Activities Of James V’;
Vol 14: Christopher A. Whatley, ‘Women And The Economic Transformation Of Scotland c.1740-1830’;
Vol 18:1: Iain Whyte, ‘Poverty or Prosperity? Rural Society in Lowland Scotland in the Late Sixteenth and Early Seventeenth Centuries’;
Vol 20:1: Heather Holmes, ‘Unwearied Investigations and Interminable Correspondence’: The Churches and Clerical Work in Improving Housing Conditions for Irish Migratory Potato Workers in Scotland’;
Vol 29:1: Marie Robinson, ‘Plague and Humiliation: The Ecclesiastical Response to Cattle Plague in Mid-Victorian Britain’;
Vol 30:1: Geoffrey Baggott, ‘Melness Farm, Sutherland: The Land Question and the Congested Districts Board, c. 1866–1911’;

Highlands:
Vol 1: Rosalind Mitchison, ‘The Highland Clearances’;
Vol 2: Willie Orr, ‘The Economic Impact Of Deer Forests In The Scottish Highlands 1850-1914’;
Vol 15: Hugh Cheape, ‘A Song On The Lowland Shepherds: Popular Reaction To The Highland Clearances’;
Vol 16: Eric Richards, ‘The Military Register and the Pursuit of Patrick Sellar’;
Vol 17:1: Ewen A. Cameron, ‘“They Will Listen to no Remonstrance”: Land Raids and Land Raiders in The Scottish Highlands, 1886 To 1914’;
Vol 30:1: Geoffrey Baggott, ‘Melness Farm, Sutherland: The Land Question and the Congested Districts Board, c. 1866–1911’;

Migration:
Vol 1: Rosalind Mitchison, ‘The Highland Clearances’;
Vol 4: Ian Donnachie, ‘Scottish Criminals And Transportation To Australia, 1786-1852’;
Vol 8: J. Forbes Munro, ‘Scottish Overseas Enterprise And The Lure Of London: The Mackinnon Shipping Group, 1847-1893’;
Vol 9: Jeanette Brock, ‘Spurious Migration In The Scottish Census’;
Vol 12: Eric Richards, ‘The Decline Of St Kilda: Demography, Economy And Emigration’;
Vol 15: Ian Donnachie, ‘“The Darker Side”: A Speculative Survey Of Scottish Crime During The First Half Of The Nineteenth Century’;
Vol 15: Henry Maitles, ‘Attitudes To Jewish Immigration In The West Of Scotland To 1905’;
Vol 16: Margaret Storrie, “‘They Go Much from Home’: Nineteenth-Century Islanders of Gigha, Scotland”;
Vol 31:1: Duncan Sim, ‘The Scottish Community and Scottish Organisations on Merseyside: Development and Decline of a Diaspora’

Demography:
Vol 1: Rosalind Mitchison, ‘The Highland Clearances’;
Vol 1: Tom Donnelly, ‘The Economic Activities Of The Members Of The Aberdeen Merchant Guild, 1750-1799’;
Vol 3: C. H. Lee, ‘Modern Economic Growth And Structural Change In Scotland The Service Sector Reconsidered’;
Vol 9: Ian D. Whyte, ‘Urbanization In Early-Modern Scotland: A Preliminary Analysis’;
Vol 9: Jeanette Brock, ‘Spurious Migration In The Scottish Census’;
Vol 10: Lee Soltow, ‘Inequality Of Wealth In Land In Scotland In The Eighteenth Century’;
Vol 11: Cynthia M. Atherton, ‘The Development Of The Middle Class Suburb: The West End Of Glasgow’;
Vol 12: Michael Lynch, ‘Urbanisation And Urban Networks In Seventeenth Century Scotland: Some Further Thoughts’;
Vol 12: Eric Richards, ‘The Decline Of St Kilda: Demography, Economy And Emigration’;
Vol 14: Christopher A. Whatley, ‘Women And The Economic Transformation Of Scotland c.1740-1830’;
Vol 16: Margaret Storrie, “‘They Go Much from Home’: Nineteenth-Century Islanders of Gigha, Scotland’;
Vol 17:1: Neil Tranter, ‘Schooling and Literacy in Early Nineteenth Century Scotland: Some Additional Evidence and its Implications’;
Vol 19:2: Carol Hill, ‘Galloway Shipping and Regional Development, 1750-1850’;
"Census" of Scotland Revisited Again’;
Vol 32:2: Ben Braber, ‘The Influence of Immigration on the Growth, Urban Concentration and Composition of the Scottish Population, 1841-1911’

Poor relief:
Vol 5: Francis J. Rice, ‘The Origins Of An Organisation Of Insanity In Scotland’;
Vol 14: Christopher A. Whatley, ‘Women And The Economic Transformation Of Scotland c.1740-1830’;
Applicants for Relief, 1861 and 1871’;
Vol 32:2: John MacCallum, ‘Charity doesn't Begin at Home: Ecclesiastical Poor Relief
beyond the Parish, 1560-1650’

Clearances:
Vol 1: Rosalind Mitchison, ‘The Highland Clearances’;
Vol 15: Hugh Cheape, ‘A Song On The Lowland Shepherds: Popular Reaction To The Highland Clearances’;
Vol 16: Eric Richards, ‘The Military Register and the Pursuit of Patrick Sellar’;
Vol 19:2: J. I. Little, ‘Agricultural Improvement and Highland Clearance: The Isle of Arran, 1766-1829’;
Vol 20:1: J. I. Little, ‘From the Isle of Arran to Inverness Township: A Case Study of
Highland Emigration and North American Settlement, 1829-34’

Religion:
Vol 11: Callum G. Brown, ‘Secularisation: A Theory In Danger?’;
Vol 15: Henry Maitles, ‘Attitudes To Jewish Immigration In The West Of Scotland To 1905’;
Vol 16: W. Hamish Fraser, ‘Owenite Socialism in Scotland’;
Vol 20:1: J. I. Little, ‘From the Isle of Arran to Inverness Township: A Case Study of
Highland Emigration and North American Settlement, 1829-34’;
Vol 20:1: Heather Holmes, ‘Unworn Investigations and Interminable
Correspondence’: The Churches and Clerical Work in Improving Housing Conditions for Irish Migratory Potato Workers in Scotland’;
The Scottish Contribution To Management’;
Anglo-Scottish Divergence In The 1690s’;
Vol 31:1: Peter Hillis, ‘The Social Composition of the Cathedral Church of St Mungo in Late Nineteenth-Century Glasgow’;
Vol 32:2: John MacCallum, ‘Charity doesn't Begin at Home: Ecclesiastical Poor Relief beyond the Parish, 1560-1650’

Material culture:
Vol 2: Lorna Weatherill, ‘Marketing English Pottery In Scotland, 1750-1820 A Study In The Inland Trade’;
Vol 12: Alastair Durie, ‘Tourism In Victorian Scotland: The Case Of Abbotsford’;
Vol 23:2: Annette Carruthers, ‘House Museums and Domestic Life Displays in Scotland’;

War and military:
Vol 3: A. Gunning, ‘Government Expenditure And Military And Naval Activity In Scotland 1793-1815’;
Vol 6: G. R. Rubin, ‘The Composition Of The Munitions Tribunal In Glasgow During The First World War’;
Vol 16: Eric Richards, ‘The Military Register and the Pursuit of Patrick Sellar’;
Vol 24:2: Catriona M. M. MacDonald, ‘“Wersh The Wine O’ Victorie”: Writing Scotland’s Second World War’;
Vol 26:1-2: John Stewart and John Welshman, ‘The Evacuation Of Children In Wartime Scotland: Culture, Behaviour And Poverty’;
Vol 27:1: Sarah Covington, ‘Royalists, Covenanters And The Shooting Of Servants In The Scottish Civil War’;
Vol 29:2: Ben Braber, ‘Within Our Gates: A New Perspective on Germans in Glasgow during the First World War’;
Vol 29:2: Alison Duncan, ‘The Sword and the Pen: The Role of Correspondence in the Advancement Tactics of Eighteenth-Century Military Officers’;
Vol 30:1: Geoffrey Baggott, ‘Melness Farm, Sutherland: The Land Question and the Congested Districts Board, c. 1866–1911’;
Vol 31:1: Johann Custodis, ‘Exploiting the Enemy in the Orkneys: The Employment of Italian Prisoners of War on the Scapa Flow Barriers during the Second World War’

Education:
Vol 4: Paul Robertson, ‘Scottish Universities And Industry, 1860-1914’;
Vol 7: R. D. Anderson, ‘Scottish University Professors, 1800-1939: Profile Of An Elite’;
Vol 8: Andrew G. Ralston, ‘The Development Of Reformatory And Industrial Schools In Scotland, 1832-1872’;
Vol 10: R. H. Campbell, ‘Scottish Economic And Social History: Past Developments And Future Prospects’;
Vol 17:1: Neil Tranter, ‘Schooling and Literacy in Early Nineteenth Century Scotland: Some Additional Evidence and its Implications’;
Vol 23:1: Andrew Bain, ‘The Beginnings of Democratic Control of Local Education in Scotland’;
Vol 27:2: Atsuko Betchaku, ‘Thomas Chalmers, David Stow and the St John's Experiment: A Study in Educational Influence in Scotland and Beyond, 1819-c.1850’;

Industry and Industrialisation:
Vol 4: Paul Robertson, ‘Scottish Universities And Industry, 1860-1914’;
Vol 8: Andrew G. Ralston, ‘The Development Of Reformatory And Industrial Schools In Scotland, 1832-1872’;
Vol 16: Peter Mathias, ‘Historical Continuity and Present Discontinuity in the Brewing Industry’;

Urban Growth and Urbanisation:
Vol 9: Ian D. Whyte, ‘Urbanization In Early-Modern Scotland: A Preliminary Analysis’;
Vol 12: Michael Lynch, ‘Urbanisation And Urban Networks In Seventeenth Century Scotland: Some Further Thoughts’;